About our Internship Program

Explanation of Internship

We, JAPF staffs, take Japanese university students to Cambodia, Thailand and Vietnam as an internship, and they can participate in a lot of trainings in variety of fields. Through the internship, we would like Japanese university students to study how NGOs, NPOs, international organizations, companies, and Government are related with international cooperation. This is because we consider that in order to fulfill our principle they need to visit there by their selves, and touch people who live in developing countries, eat foods, see, hear and consider about the countries. Additionally, they can join practical workshops through the internship, and later, they are able to learn what an international cooperation is.

Our vision is to promote the development of the participants who are particularly interested in international development and international exchange. We can, however, also promote the development of some of participants who are not interested in international relations by comparing their own lifestyle to the lifestyle in Southeastern Asian countries.

During the internship, participants have time to discuss about what they are learning, because by discussing with students who have variety background, participants can learn more and more values, by repeating input and output about what they learn, we are able to promote their ability of considering and taking actions.

Feature of internship

We have a lot of Japanese university students as staffs and they escort internship participants. By their energetically working, they can support self-fulfillment of participants.

During the internship, we often look at sight of participants being influenced by student staffs' acting to try telling their thinking. This is one of our organization's strong points. Student staffs can transfer their deep thinking because they have similar point of view with participants.

leading to the award of a certificate of internship

Participants are able to receive to the award of a certificate of internship from honorary consulate of the Kingdom of Cambodia in Osaka Japan. They can use it with their job hunting.

About our other activities

Picture books production

On 2010 in summer we made picture books with children in kindergarten. It is difficult to reach our big goal "be bridge between Japan and Cambodia", but we could send books which was made in Japanese culture.

Hospital arts

Hospital arts is making and displaying arts at hospitals or welfare facilities in order to cure patient's mind. Hospital arts can create comfortable space in hospitals and welfare facilities.

We made stained glass with children in kindergarten for patients at HIV hospital in Cambodia.

We handed up glass to HIV patients in internship.

Lecture presentation by Natsuki YASUDA(photojournalist)

08/12/2008~12/12/2008 at Doshisha University

We held lecture presentation at Doshisha University. We invited Natsuki YASUDA(photojournalist) as an instructor. She told university students contemporary condition of Cambodia and her thinking.

She said "I don't want you to do something for Cambodian people, but I don't want you to withdraw your eyes from their serious situation and I hope you to know that there are a lot of Cambodians who have hopes in their disadvantaged lives."

Photo exhibition

09/03/2013~31/03/2013 at Ritsumeikan University

We held a photo exhibition at Ritsumeikan University. We displayed a lot of pictures which we took in the internship.

We told many visitors what internship participants felt about land mine, HIV, poverty and serious state in Cambodia through the internship. Through this exhibition, we raised the question "Whether the world without war is peaceful or not?"
